Matters relating to sexual harm

(12) Where a potential student misconduct report referred to the Student Conduct Board relates to or may affect or impact the safety of any person, present any increased level of risk, or where it involves sexual harm:

- a. the Chair must consult with Safer Community on the appropriate arrangements for conducting any investigation, hearing or other matters involving the consideration of the report; and
- b. where relevant and practicable, the Chair and at least one of the other Senior Officer members of the Student Conduct Board, will have undertaken relevant training in relation to sexual harm, and taking a trauma-informed approach.

Investigations

(13) Investigations may be requested by the Academic Registrar (or delegate) in accordance with clause 11(d), or the Chair, Student Conduct Board during the course of a hearing where the complexities of the matter require additional or specialised investigation. In either case, the Academic Registrar (or delegate), or the Chair, Student Conduct Board (as appropriate) will decide how any such investigation may be carried out, including whether the investigation is appropriately undertaken by an external resource, or by a person or group within RMIT.

- c. there is a higher level of risk or threat associated with the reported conduct, as determined in accordance with the assessment undertaken by Safer Community
- d. the likely investigation is complex
- e. the subject matter of the reported conduct is sensitive or likely to require a particular skillset to appropriately investigate it
- f. the persons likely to be involved are vulnerable or have specific needs, and where an external investigation would best facilitate their engagement (including taking into account age, disability, language, social or cultural background or any other relevant characteristics)
- g. there are not appropriate internal resources available to undertake an investigation
- h. the potential outcomes available require it, if a finding of misconduct were to be made (for example if the outcome depended on the need for a specific finding of fact which could only be substantiated through an investigation); or

- i. there are any other relevant factors which support the use of an external investigation resource.

(18) Where an external investigator is to be appointed, the Academic Registrar (or delegate) will notify the relevant College or Portfolio with whom the respondent student is studying of the appointment and the need to meet investigation costs.

Concluding an Investigation

(19) In the case of matters that have been referred to the Student Conduct Board, the Academic Registrar (or delegate) must form a preliminary view about the potential student misconduct based on the report, relevant evidence, any internal and external final investigation reports (where applicable) and may either:

- a. determine that the conduct may constitute misconduct under the Student Conduct Policy and advise the Secretary to convene a hearing of the Student Conduct Board, or
- b. determine that no further action is required under the Student Conduct Policy and this procedure where the misconduct is considered not to be substantiated. The Academic Registrar (or delegate) will notify the respondent student, referring officer and reporting person by their preferred method of contact (where appropriate) of this determination as quickly as practicable and confirm it in writing.

Conduct of a Hearing

(39) The Chair will ensure that the Student Conduct Board hearing:

(41) The Student Conduct Board may make inquiries with any reporting person or persons who were affected or impacted by the potential student misconduct, considering guidance from Safer Community in relation to how this may be done in a trauma-informed and appropriately sensitive manner

Student Conduct Board Determinations

(42) Once the Student Conduct Board has considered all relevant materials, and the respondent student's response (where applicable), the Student Conduct Board must determine:

- a. what occurred, as a finding of fact, on the balance of probabilities;
- b. whether what was found to have occurred constitutes misconduct; and then
- c. to:

(45) Where a finding of misconduct has resulted in the imposition of consequences or penalties, the specific nature of the consequences or penalties imposed should only be communicated to the reporting person to the extent relevant and appropriate.

- a. In some cases, for privacy reasons, the details of an outcome and the corresponding consequences or penalties cannot be communicated to anyone other than the respondent student and their representatives.
- b. If a Student Conduct Board has applied a consequence or penalty, this would not be communicated to the reporting person, unless it was directly relevant to the reporting person because of an impact or repercussion for them as a result of that consequence or penalty.

- i. For example, if a respondent student has been suspended from RMIT premises, and if this is relevant to a reporting person for the purposes of their attendance at RMIT premises, this would be communicated to the reporting person.
