

Child Safe Code of Conduct

Section 1 - Purpose

(1) The RMIT Child Safe Code of Conduct will provide guidelines about professional behaviours, expectations, obligations, outline appropriate and inappropriate behaviours when interacting with children, and the consequences of inappropriate conduct.

- a. for the purposes of this Child Safe Code of Conduct, a child is any person under the age of 18. Younger person, young person and children are other terms used to refer to anyone under the age of 18.

(2) RMIT University is committed to fostering the empowerment and engagement of children and young people. RMIT seeks, at all times, to create an environment that supports children and young people to participate in decisions that affect them and to have confidence that adults in the RMIT community will always act on their concerns. RMIT is committed to ensuring that young people are aware of their rights and provided with age-appropriate child safety information.

Section 2 - Overview

(3) The Child Safe Code is about how we work as a community to uphold our commitment to child safety.

(4) As a public University that conducts its business across the biik biik (lands) and wurneet (water ways) of the Eastern Kulin Nations, the Child Safe Code acknowledges our dhumbali (commitment) to place, explained in the Bundjil Statement.

(5) RMIT is a values-based organisation, and all staff are expected to practice our RMIT core values. Our values inspire us and help us to make RMIT a positive force for social, cultural and environmental change, and guide how we live and work together, wherever we are in the world.

(6) The Child Safe Code is maintained as an information resource for RMIT Group staff and the public.

Section 3 - Scope

(7) All staff, students, contractors, visitors and volunteers across all campuses in all regions are required to comply with the Child Safe Code of Conduct, irrespective of whether their role includes interaction with children. It also applies to students when completing a placement.

(8) Any breach of this Child Safe Code of Conduct must be reported to RMIT Safer Community.

Section 4 - Code of Conduct

- o. reporting and act on any behavioural complaints, concerns or observed breaches regarding this Child Safe Code of Conduct
- p. reporting any concern, allegation, disclosure, or observation of child abuse to the relevant person or authority as outlined in RMIT University's reporting procedure and in line with mandatory reporting requirements, including the Reportable Conduct Scheme
- q. respecting the privacy of children and their families by keeping all information regarding child protection concerns confidential, only discussing information with the relevant people to follow the reporting procedure
- r. listening to and valuing children and young people's ideas and opinions, ensuring they are listened to and responded to appropriately
- s. working with children in an open and transparent way – other adults should always know about the work being done with a child/young person
- t. maintaining appropriate boundaries and ensuring a professional and appropriate tone in all social media interactions, especially with a child/young person
- u. always maintaining professional boundaries with a child/young person, including when seeing a child from RMIT outside the workplace
- v. ensuring any physical contact with a child/young person is appropriate to the delivery of learning and programs or activities, and based on the needs of children and young people (such as to assist or comfort a distressed child)
- w. participating in child safety training.

(10) Expected behaviours in an online environment:

- a. only authorised contact with a child/young person using RMIT email addresses and/or RMIT social media accounts
- b. any other interaction with a child/young person online must be for the purposes of their safety or education and must take place on University endorsed channels, such as RMIT email systems
- c. if an online class has students who are under 18, they must ensure that the content is suitable for all participants.

(11) Unacceptable behaviours are:

- a. engaging in any activity with a child or young person that is likely to cause harm, including participating in any behaviour that would constitute abuse, harm, neglect, exploitation, harassment, discrimination, or victimisation
- b. condoning or participating in behaviour with a child/young person that is illegal, unsafe, or abusive

- g. initiating unnecessary physical contact (including cuddling, physical restraint, or personal hygiene practices (such as patient care while on placement))
- h. engaging in sexual misconduct, which includes any sexual activity (touching, fondling, oral, anal, or vaginal penetration, voyeurism, exhibitionism), exploitation, inappropriate conversations of a sexual nature. Sexual misconduct can occur face to face or online.
- i. engaging in any behaviours which could be seen as grooming, such as developing 'special' relationships with a child/young person, showing favouritism through the provision of gifts or inappropriate attention, or developing friendships with a child/young person and/or their families outside learning/program hours. Grooming can occur face to face or online.
- j. discriminating on the basis of age, sex, gender identity, race, culture, or sexual orientation
- k. being in a one-to-one situation with a child/young person unless required by your role
- l. supply of alcohol or drugs to a child/young person
- m. communicating directly with a child through personal or private contact channels (including but not limited to social media, email, instant messaging, chat rooms, gaming sites and texting) outside of learning/program requirements, your position description or without oversight
- n. exchanging personal contact details such as phone numbers, social media details or email addresses with a child/young person outside of learning/program requirements, your position description or without oversight
- o. having unauthorised contact with a child/young person online, on social media, email or by phone
- p. using any device including computer, mobile phone, or video or digital camera to exploit or harass a child/young person
- q. offering to transport a child/young person alone in your car or inviting them to your home (except in cases of an organised car-pooling arrangement for transport for course related or club trips, with the consent of a parent or guardian).

(12) Camping and/or overnight stays. Throughout their engagement with RMIT, enrolled students aged 16 or 17 years old may participate in camps and overnight trips either as part of their education or their membership of an RMIT club or society. Elements to be considered include, but are not limited to:

- a. parental/guardian approval must be obtained in writing prior to the trip
- b. supervision - if no RMIT staff member will be present, leaders of the group must be aware of their responsibilities regarding child safety and consider a 'buddy' support system where a trip leader and/or responsible adult helps to support the participation of a child/young person

- c. emergency contacts – ensure the trip leaders have the emergency contact of every child/young person
 - i. ensuring that the child/young person and trip organiser have the details for escalated support, such as Safer Community.
- d. sleeping arrangements – consider if the arrangements will be safe and appropriate for a child/young person, such as age and gender
- e. consumption of alcohol – ensure the young person is aware that they are not allowed to consume alcohol on the trip and ensure the trip leaders are aware of this.

Compliance

(13) If a member of the RMIT community breaches the RMIT Child Safe Code of Conduct, they will face an internal and/or external investigation which may result in any of the disciplinary action listed below. Disciplinary actions may include, but are not limited to:

- a. additional training and support
