

Retention and Disposal Standard

Section 1 - Purpose

(1) This standard defines requirements for the retention and disposal of information (data and information) which supports the functions and activities of the RMIT Group.

Section 2 - Scope

(2) This standard applies to all individuals who manage, handle or process information for the RMIT Group, including staff, students, casual employees, contractors, visitors and honorary appointees. It also includes third parties (e.g. suppliers) and agents of the organisation who are contractually bound to RMIT Policy.

Section 3 - Authority

(3) Authority for this document is established by the Information Governance Policy.

Section 4 - Standard

Overview

(4) This standard provides RMIT with a set of consistent rules to facilitate efficient and compliant practices of retention and disposal of information created and maintained as records, in alignment with legislative and business needs.

(5) RMIT records that must be retained includes those which are created, maintained, sent or received whilst carrying out work at RMIT that:

- a. will support the current or future needs of RMIT
- b. provide evidence of RMIT activities
- c. provide advice, instructions or recommendations
- d. are used to reach a decision or substantiate a sequence of decisions, actions or processes
- e. contain a commitment or agreement, or
- f. are required to satisfy legal or regulatory requirements.

Retention Requirements

(6) RMIT must preserve information as records for the period specified in Section 5 – RMIT Records Retention & Disposal Authority (RDA).

(7) Normal Administrative Practice (NAP) is a category of information that includes working documents, drafts not intended for retention and additional copies of information maintained for reference purposes. Information that falls in the category of NAP is not subject to Section 5 – RMIT Retention and Disposal Authority. The Retention and Disposal Guideline provides guidance for identifying and managing information that falls in the category of NAP.

(8) All staff members are required to create and maintain records of information that show evidence of workplace activities and decisions. These records must be full, accurate, reliable and managed in an appropriate location.

(9) Storage locations must be able to support the retention of records for as long as they are required for legal and business purposes, including for data analytics purposes, be able to provide sufficient protection over time and support the application of required metadata.

(10) Records must be maintained in a format that is expected to survive and be readable for the required life of the records. The Public Record Office of Victoria (PROV) standard: PROS 19/05 S3: Long Term Sustainable Formats provides specific requirements for digital records.

(11) Controls must be designed and applied to processes and systems to ensure records are protected from unauthorised activity and can be trusted as credible evidence.

(12) Records must be retained with required metadata, accessible for authorised use and effectively managed for as long as they are required or until they are able to be lawfully disposed of or destroyed.

Disposal Requirements

(13) Disposal can involve either destruction of records of temporary retention value or transfer of state archives to PROV or a registered Place of Deposit.

(14) Records that have met the minimum retention period defined below in Section 5 – RMIT Retention and Disposal Authority and are eligible for disposal should be disposed of in a timely manner.

(15) Prior to disposal, RMIT must check that the records are eligible for destruction or transfer to another Victorian agency or registered place of deposit, i.e. they are no longer required for any RMIT operations or legal purpose including: operational needs, analytics, financial or audit reasons, legal or Freedom of Information (FOI) requirements.

(16) Information that falls under NAP are pre-authorized for disposal.

(17) Destruction of records must be authorised, lawful, secure, irreversible, and follow the Destruction of Information Procedure.

(18) Destruction of records must be documented, including details of authorisation and process.

Section 5 - RMIT Retention and Disposal Authority (RDA)

(19) The RMIT Retention and Disposal Authority (RDA) is adapted from, and incorporates, the following list of PROV Retention and Disposal Authorities, pursuant to the Public Records Act 1973 (Vic):

- a. PROS 07/01 Retention and Disposal Authority for Common Administrative Functions
- b. PROS 16/07 Retention and Disposal Authority for Higher and Further Education Functions
- c. PROS 16/01 Retention and Disposal Authority for Training Function – Accredited
- d. PROS 16/02 Retention and Disposal Authority for Training Function – Non-Accredited
- e. PROS 09/05 Retention and Disposal Authority for Local Government Functions \(covers Childcare and Early Education\)
- f. PROS 17/03 Retention and Disposal Authority for Records of Museum and Gallery Functions
- g. PROS 17/04 Retention and Disposal Authority for Records of Hospital Administrative Functions
- h. PROS 01/01 Retention and Disposal Authority for Records of School Records

i. PROS 11/06 Retention and Disposal Authority for Patient Information Records

(20) The RMIT Retention and Disposal (RDA) is outlined below. A RMIT Retention and Disposal \(RDA\) Search Tool is available to assist navigation of retention classes contained within the RDA. Please contact the Data and Analytics team for further guidance or questions regarding the RDA.
